mastering new technologies and guiding faculty and students through these changes. Most innovations have precedents, and it requires time and energy, and it also acquire as many technologies are increasingly technology oriented crucial for the future success of the profession.

What professional development opportunities would you encourage newer law librarians take advantage of?

I would suggest they attend the AALL Spectrum, as well as Law Library Journal like Legal Services Quarterly. I am also a huge proponent of the wanting to get their feet wet with scholarship in a very supporting and nurturing environment, this event provides great feedback. Publishing this very important writing some great mentoring and writing in the Y.)% U 0 , that provide additional support as you start your scholarly writing journey.

As an editorial board member for Law Library Journal from 2021 to 2023, what key insights or advice would you offer to prospective authors to optimize the likelihood of acceptance?

I think it is important to take
